

Recommended Data Collection for Historically Disadvantaged Groups

- I. Demographic data (parents and children):
  - a. Race
  - b. Age (DOB)
  - c. Gender
- II. Demographic data for all groups:
  - a. All Child Welfare referrals
  - b. Founded referrals
  - c. Court involved cases
  - d. Screened for program
    - i. Accepted
    - ii. Rejected
  - e. Enter program
  - f. Refuse entry into program
  - g. Discharge successfully
  - h. Discharge unsuccessfully
  - i. Commit new crime within 1 and 3 years of discharge (successful and unsuccessful)
- III. In program data metrics
  - a. Screening and assessment scores
  - b. Education level
  - c. Employment status
  - d. Sanctions and incentives (date, type, length)
  - e. Jail sanctions
  - f. Treatment referrals
  - g. Time from referral to first appointment
  - h. Ancillary services provided
  - i. Dispositions for successful and unsuccessful completion of Family Drug court
  - j. Aftercare services provided

Additional Resources

- Kirwan Institute at Ohio State University: the study of Race and Ethnicity
<http://kirwaninstitute.osu.edu/research/understanding-implicit-bias/>
- Harvard Project Implicit
<https://implicit.harvard.edu/implicit/selectatest.html>
- Jerry Kang, J. M., et al, (2012). Implicit Bias in the Courtroom. UCLA Law Review, 1126-1186.
<http://faculty.washington.edu/agg/pdf/Kang&al.ImplicitBias.UCLALawRev.2012.pdf>
- National Center for State Courts: Helping courts address implicit bias: Resources for education <http://www.ncsc.org/ibeducation>
- Papillion, K. (2012, March 23). Neuroscience and the killing of Trayvon Martin. Salon.com.
http://open.salon.com/blog/kimberly\_papillon/2012/03/23/neuroscience\_and\_the\_killing\_of\_trayvon\_martin
- The Biased Eye, January 15, 2015. National Public Radio.
<http://www.npr.org/blogs/13.7/2015/01/09/376039529/the-biased-eye>
- Vedantam, Shankar. (2010). The Hidden Brain. New York, New York. Random House LLC
- Gladwell, Malcom. (2005). Blink. New York, New York. Little, Brown Company Time Warner Book Group