

Judge David Furman was appointed to the Colorado Court of Appeals in 2005. Prior to his appointment, he served as a Magistrate in the Denver District Court, presiding over the adult drug court and handling post-decree domestic relations and foreclosure cases (2003-2005). He also served as a Magistrate in the Denver Juvenile Court handling child protection, adoption, delinquency, truancy, and paternity and support cases (1999-2005).

David Dean is a staff attorney at the Colorado Court of Appeals specializing in appellate jurisdiction and procedure.

J.J. Wallace is a staff attorney at the Colorado Court of Appeals specializing in juvenile and family law.

Claire Vetter is a student at the University of Michigan Law School, where she is a student attorney for the Child Welfare Appellate Clinic and an Associate Editor for the University of Michigan Journal of Law Reform.

David Dean is a staff attorney at the Colorado Court of Appeals specializing in appellate jurisdiction and procedure.

Alice Marris is a staff attorney at the Colorado Court of Appeals specializing in juvenile and family law.